

Richmond College has no shown the class that it promised in the George Washington game early in the season, but Coach Long believed the players are more fit now than they have been at any time during the season. All the lame ducks are back in the game, and Captain Sadler has infused the greatest life, grit and confidence into his men. The team has practiced most faithfully for this final struggle, which is to decide the championship, and in its workouts with the Medical College of Virginia showed better class of speed, offense and defensive playing, punt as might have been expected after so long and fast a run.

Chance Failed.

Carrollins thought the White and Blue team would score in the third quarter, when a double pass and kick was tried. It was an exciting moment, but Carolina failed to tally. The play was on outside kick from Belk's boot, with Applewhite delegated to catch the piskin and advance it farther. The play was well engineered, and Applewhite tore up the field to Virginia's eight-yard line before he fell of his own accord and was held down by Virginia tacklers. Referee

Virginia that these women, who lost their all in the struggle of '65 and are dear to every true Southerner's heart, can be cared for in their declining years. Surely if millions of dollars can be spent in erecting monuments to the heroes of the war, surely it can provide comfort for these Confederate women ought to be given by Virginia. The work is one that commends itself to all and deserves hearty support of the public.

"The Circular Staircase," the most interesting fiction and mystery story of the season, published in serial form exclusively in The Richmond Virginian.

FIRE IN HOLDS
RAGING TWO DAYS
NORFOLK, VA., November 25.—The Austrian steamer Giulla, bound for Trieste from New Orleans, put in here to-day with fire in two holds, which the crew has been fighting for four days. The fire is among cotton and staves. Steam was turned into the holds in the hope of saving a portion of the cargo, which is large and valuable. After twenty-four hours the hatches will be opened, and if necessary the ship will be flooded. The origin of the fire is unknown.

and Washington. Upon their return they will reside at 2109 East Leigh street.

Mr. August Polig, who has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. C. A. Girmelman, for the past three months left for his home in Philadelphia Wednesday.

Mr. Robert Bellamy, of Louisa county, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Goodall, of Twenty-first street.

Mrs. Fanny Chesnut, of New Brunswick, is spending the week with her brother, Mr. W. B. Chesnut.

Mrs. Simpson Clayton is somewhat improved at her home here after an imprisonment of ten days.

The Circular Staircase is the best mystery story of the season. It is full of action and intensely dramatic and interesting from chapter to chapter. It is difficult to make up a good mystery story. "The Circular Staircase" is not only good, but is clean and engrossing.
